VALUABLE SEEDS.

NEW BRUNSWICK OATS.—These splendid White Oats are the most desirable oat in cultivation, having more good qualities combined than any other sort known. They are plump and very heavy, weighing from forty-two to fifty pounds to the bushel, and producing, with fair cultivation, one hundred bushels to the acre. The straw is large and strong, not as liable to fall as other oats. Four pounds by mail, $1.00; one bushel by Express or Frieght, including bag, $3.00; two bushels, $5.

HARDY EVERGREEN GRASS.—This is a new and distinct variety from the far Northwest, and is without doubt the most valuable of all grasses for pasturage and hay, the rank Fall growth keeping green all Winter. It grows about four feet high, produces seed the second year, and will produce a heavy crop of tender hay on the driest soils. Only a few packets for disposals at $1.00 each.

HAMPTON'S HYBRID SQUASH.—A cross between the Hubbard and Sweet Potato, and better than either, being sweeter than the Hubbard and drier than the Sweet Patato Squash. Weight about thirty pounds, is very productive, and keeps well all winter. Per packet, 25 cents.

Several other fine Squash seeds at 15 cents per packet.

GIANT WAX BEAN.—One of the best snap Beans, producing tender pods abundantly all summer long. A pole bean. Per packet, 15 cents.

DWARF WAX BEAN.—Equally as good as the above, but a bush Bean. Per packet, 15 cents.

TREE, SHRUB AND EVERGREEN SEEDS, in the proper season, in 10 cent, 25 cent, and 50 cent papers, and very cheap by the pound or bushel. It is best to order Tree seeds early in the Fall and plant before winter comes, so as to ensure their growth the following Spring.
